

RITE NOW @ ROP

During this time of anxiety and social distancing, the J. Walter Wood Center has received incredible support from Taylor Road Baptist Church. Over the years, a committed partnership has developed between the two organizations and the current stay at home order has been difficult for both. This week, members of Taylor Road Baptist Church (TRBC) surprised the students at JWWJ with a parade, circling the parking lot in their decorated vehicles as the students observed in amazement from a distance.

TRBC also has started sending weekly letters to the students and responding to prayer requests. The Church supports JWWJ staff by way of food, prayer, and encouraging emails to boost morale and show appreciation for continuing to provide essential services.

JWWJ is filled with gratitude and pride to have a community partner who has chosen to make these uncertain times an opportunity for unity. Thank you to Taylor Road Baptist Church for their spirit and support.
